++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells but increasing cloud brings evening rain.

Today:
A dry, bright morning with some good spells of, at times, hazy sunshine. Cloud is expected to increase from the southwest this afternoon with patchy rain reaching southwestern Aberdeenshire towards dusk. Freshening southeasterly winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
A few early clear spells across Moray, otherwise a cloudy night with outbreaks of rain. The rain becomes persistent, and occasionally heavy, over the hills of southern and eastern Cairngorms. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
A mostly cloudy day with outbreaks of rain, most persistent and occasionally heavy over southern and eastern hills. Becoming drier from the north in the afternoon. Strong southeasterly winds easing. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mostly cloudy Saturday with patchy light rain, some brightness in west. Brighter Sunday as winds turn southerly. Overnight rain then clears to leave Monday dry with sunny spells.
